THE ALL-STAR GAMES

FUTURES GAME

The Futures Game has been held annually during Major League Baseball's All-Star Week at the same ballpark as the All-Star Game every year since 1999. The game pits the best minor league prospects born in the United States against the best minor league prospects born in the rest of the world. Each team is assigned a roster of 25 players. Each major league organization is represented in the Futures Game by either one or two players. Herewith are the results of the nine Futures Games that have been played.

YEAR	SCORE	MVP (ORGANIZATION)
1999	World 7, US 0	Alfonso Soriano (Yankees)
2000	US 3, World 2	Sean Burroughs (Padres)
2001	US 5, World 1	Toby Hall (Devil Rays)
2002	World 5, US 1	Jose Reyes (Mets)
